Recap the factual information from 'Gusts and Gales-A Book about Wind', by Josepha Sherman. Discuss what you have learnt about winds with a member of your family.

After that, research poems about wind and read them with your family. What have you noticed? Have you found any other weather poems?

Write some rhyming words to add to your poem about a type of weather later in the week, such as: trees, leaves, breeze, blow, go, slow, fly, sky and high.

Success Criteria:

- ★ Discuss factual information about wind and weather
- ★ Begin to talk about the basic features of poetry
- ★ Understand some of the language structures, for example, rhyme, rhythm and repetition
