

Thursday reading Task

This week you have answered lots of different style questions about a range of stories.

So for today's reading activity I want you to choose one of your own favourite stories and come up with some of your own questions and see if your family can answer them correctly.

