There, They're and Their

The above words are all homophones. They sound the same, but they are spelt differently and have different meanings.

There refers to a place or position.

The children are playing over there.

There is an aeroplane in the sky.

'They're' is a contraction. This means it is a shorter way of saying 'they are'.

They're playing a game together.

They're running around the track.

'Their' is a possessive adjective. This means it shows ownership or belonging.

Their lunch was very tasty.

The children are wearing their school uniform

Have a go on the sheet below, then write 2 sentences using each word. So that is 6 sentences in all!
