

English Instructions

This week you will have a choice of two different ways to complete your English, depending on which is easier for you to access.

You can complete newspaper work on the Oak National Academy website, or work on the bitesize programmes on the BBC. If you feel really keen, you can do both, but we don't expect it! Here is how to access your learning:

The Oak National Academy - <https://www.thenational.academy/>

The first week's work is based around Newspapers, and covers comprehension and writing.

Each day's work consists of a quiz to test knowledge before starting, a teaching video, main activity and a final quiz. There will be a link for each day's work, or you can access it using the above link. We will be beginning with Week One's work for English.

Bitesize.

Bitesize Daily programmes will be available on BBC iPlayer, on any device, and on TV via the Red Button. These are 20 minute TV shows, each designed to target a specific age group.

All Bitesize Daily lessons have been designed in consultation with teachers and education experts. The TV shows will be presented by teachers, experts and by well-known BBC faces, including Karim Zeroual and Katie Thistleton.

BBC iPlayer and the Red Button are hosting Bitesize Daily programmes each weekday for learners aged five to 14.

Expert teachers have worked with us to create these fun-packed programmes full of learning and inspiration. Each programme will include a combination of core subjects like English, Maths and Science, as well as other subjects such as History, Geography, Music and French.

Watch Bitesize Daily on iPlayer

Watch Bitesize Daily on Red Button:

09:00 - Bitesize Daily, Primary

10:00 - Bitesize Daily, Secondary

What's on the show today?

You'll find six different 20 minute shows per weekday on BBC iPlayer, each targeting children of different ages (5-7, 7-9, 9-11 years, that is primary aged children, and 11-12, 12-13, 13-14 years, for those at secondary school).
